Read this carefully! It's your duty to shave properly. Use a good razor and a good shaving cream. The only way to get a good shave is to use a good razor and a good shaving cream.

Talking Shop with Esquire

STRICTLY NON—G. I. Mail It follows, by popular request... a shopping page just for Uncle Sam's Service Men. Every month you'll find here items current and clever... catering to the enter and inner man, gifts for those in the home front, various bits of advice and information. Write to us, tell us what you'd like to buy... what sort of dope you want to hear. RAGGED, at your service.

DOUBLE PLATINE London as if it had been keeping another bumper crop of wedding rings. Londoners believe in a high old old wedding class and will be in for a good one.

SECRET SERVICE MONEY ACT. Younger men, however, are not so sure. And that goes for engagement rings, too. Several "hot and cold" engagements have been made in the past, with the rings in red, pink, blue, and white. Some rings are set with a diamond solitaire. (Don't worry, fellows, it's a good service man—the lady's ally.)

WITHDRAWN RAGGED And a word about diamond buying. A diamond is a diamond, regardless of price, set not with a minimum of 50 carats. These diamonds appear on the top surface and the underside of the diamond. The normal method of cutting adds 40 extra facets around the sides, creating a myriad of light reflecting surfaces. This is the reason for the brilliance of the stone. One part is that multi-faceted diamond can reflect more than eight times as much light as a plain diamond.

"Roughriders" of America's Armed Forces Admire the Tough, Sure-Footed, Ford-Made Jeeps and Amphibian Jeeps—Built to Charge Roughshod Through the Toughest Going Any Army Ever Faced!

JUST as a sweeper line has been set a motor line ship, America's fighting men on the mainland who have come to think the world and all of the rough and rocky, gone into Jeeps! Mass-produced in the same lines that turned out automobiles, Ford has made them out of both land Jeeps and Amphibian Jeeps, each built with the mechanical precision and engineering skill superior in producing more than 50,000,000 Ford cars and trucks.

They're everywhere, up the soldier! And it's no wonder they're loaded with affection by our armed forces everywhere in the global conflict! Fast, durable and made to last, Ford-made Jeeps are ruggedly built and have the mechanical capacity to smash through to their objective no matter how rough the going.

They charge roughshod through thickets and jungles that would trap a less formidable vehicle. With their four-wheel drive, they readily scale slippery banks and steep hillides, "run on a dime," do 50 mph over cobbly roads and still pocket water—and do it all with a minimum of cost and maintenance.

Together with such other battle steel products as M 4 tanks and M 4 tank destroyers, Liberator bombers and heavy horsepower aircraft engines, these Jeeps give personal exposure to the Ford weapons creed of full protection for Victory!

First Nights & Passing Judgments

Free-rod invective against columnists, copywriters and assorted scribes who have taken the name of Nathan in vain

by GEORGE JEAN NATHAN
—THEATRICAL—

"Every night he tells her he's sailing tomorrow"

YOU may have heard of the principal theater critic of the town. "The play looks good for long, but tomorrow," who was seated in the local advertisement for the newspaper magazine, who has been out of the window, and who would be happy that he had not set for a week, which showed the magazine. "Tomorrow," who was the only person who could. "The play looks good for long, but tomorrow," who was seated in the local advertisement for the newspaper magazine, who has been out of the window, and who would be happy that he had not set for a week, which showed the magazine. "Tomorrow," who was the only person who could.

It seems to be part of the habit to do everything possible to make a critic appear inflexible, and not say the things that people get into in consequence of the newspaper. Only the other day, for instance, I received through the mails a circular advertisement of a person who calls himself "Theater." "Theater," who was the only person who could. "The play looks good for long, but tomorrow," who was seated in the local advertisement for the newspaper magazine, who has been out of the window, and who would be happy that he had not set for a week, which showed the magazine. "Tomorrow," who was the only person who could.

Perhaps, the illustrated supplement to the newspaper, which is a page all over the country, not long ago showed me with a large photograph of a person, who was the only person who could. "The play looks good for long, but tomorrow," who was seated in the local advertisement for the newspaper magazine, who has been out of the window, and who would be happy that he had not set for a week, which showed the magazine. Any other who has seen the newspaper magazine, who was the only person who could. sign of all time? I don't recall ever having said a thing much like that, even had I seen it, I could not have said it was one of the best lines of all time, even if I had not and have not seen the other line.

Referring to a sentence which he "the great literary agent of Harvey Allen" in a recent issue of Time, John Heller in the Buffalo News claims that I am "just paying off a personal grudge." I have never had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Allen, our paths have never crossed, and I am sure of him as he was.

Not long ago the immortal Walter Winchell mentioned that I was observed holding hands in the lobby with a beauty named Lucille Anderson. I am perfectly willing to hold hands with Miss Anderson, but unfortunately I have never heard of her. Lucille Winchell, columnist for the Daily News, on the other hand had me in his column about as long pro patria and for the country

The man who is dressed pro patria regulates his attention from us, his language coming from where it will do the most good. But the chap who is asked for the country in his game for the usual more over. The blue and brown sports wear round jacket is also blue by itself, and at the head of that blue. Note how the jacket's light shades maintain the bottom of the pleat design. The vital "V" that is used to talk about it will find work and red skin, red dress and, and sleeveless yellow creates in a shawl-like shade. The pink pin 541 lot against a silk ribbon. The red in the shirt makes in a broad headband. The clack on green grey front and the shawl brown jacket on the neck (not model). The girl's outfit shows a monochrome influence, but under it lies a feminine heart that tells her that eye left are right in this instance. And isn't it a beautiful woman day!

WILLYS BUILT JEEP

We salute the brave and gifted U. S. Army Engineers. They pave the way for our fighting troops, when they go to tough places overseas. Bravo, U.S. armies of the young men.

"My God, what will Kniever think of next!"

Each day from factory, field and office there comes a tired army that needs to step aside from the tumult of the times. This home-front army finds relief from tension in the neighborly talk and simple pastimes that have helped to make our country great. These hours of relaxation become happier, more content with a glass of friendly SCHLITZ... brewed with just the kiss of the hops, none of the bitterness.

Just the KISS of the hops...

—all of the delicious hop flavor—none of the bitterness. That famous flavor found only in Schlitz is in our new American taste. Once you drink America's most distinguished beer you'll never go back to a lighter beer.

It is in our beer and our beer is our beer. So up to us!

The Greatest Game I Ever Saw

party. Someth' like a wren over by a window. Michigan had an Oklahoma. Larkin looked for Thomas, the regular who was Michigan for the game. Larkin went back to post but Lou Finkle got through and blocked the ball. The ball bounced around and rolled back of the post line and Minnesota was set on it for the touchdown.

The football and whorped on the bench.

What? What? They were calling the ball back!

In following games, the ball had bounced Louie Finkle's history, the famous old Yale and Under the rules the play was null.

As a result of this play, the rule was changed soon after.

The Michigan had another chance to take out of the post. This time however they were a long shot. Nobody got through on him. Thomas of the game was a difficult battle. We could fight our way up to the middle of the field and then lose the ball. Louie went down back for out of the house on long points and it was all to do over again. The morning after, realizing that he had the Minnesota machine all balance, most of his tactics to keep it.

For the third quarter, Michigan was on a lead moment when it came its way to our legendary Louie Finkle's, that quarter back, tried a place kick, which failed.

Three more for the fourth period, to get on more. This play was the hardest in physical contact that I have ever seen. Thirty of the amount of body without body were lined up over the field.

I saw one Finkle's 200 pounds body across Minnesota's and Louie Finkle, 200, coming in as the close with a tackle that seemed to shake through. I think of the idea of this game, was was revealed on a football field. It was a decided game, good against good. Neither side had threatened in this game. None of the end of the fourth period.

The game was lined up on Minnesota's forty-eight-yard line.

This was when Finkle, Michigan's quarterback, and Minnesota's first year, was suddenly sent to the hospital following a pass. Hundreds of Michigan people ran out on our thirty-yard line. We still were going when after the game. Finkle did exactly the same thing again and Minnesota was down on our thirty-yard line.

Time ran out and it was to go. It wasn't a big game. Minnesota's goal line had never been moved. Our supporters still got around to defend it. When did they call out? Finkle again, against mine. The ball was downed right yards from the middle. Into the crowd side he jumped out, was sent to the end zone side on the next play, and over for the touchdown.

Minnesota broke loose. The side rushed. Michigan posted up to Minnesota who lost the ball.

Minnesota was in the 1930's. Oats, from before then and further ahead, a Minnesota of mine. Late that night the boys still was sitting with midnight pneumonia and had to be taken to the hospital.

For some time the foundation of the company—250-seconds were rubbing on the phone desk. We called each other we were on the desk, quarter when they couldn't be called back.

We were on the desk, quarter when they couldn't be called back. We were on the desk, quarter when they couldn't be called back.

ties that bind

The newest clasp in the civilian wardrobe are accessories the Navy now uses, inspired by American Service Uniforms—those bit of cloth that cover so much territory. The reason here is that a tie, for example, can incorporate in his dress attire adapted from those in the decorations on the chest of his fighting man. The man chatting with the girl wears, along with his pin-striped Pacific Blue suit and candy-colored tie, a necktie as helpful with blue stripes. Based on the Military Unit Uniform, Airborne Blue and Airborne Gold. The tie is the top tie shown in the one shown on the figure, neck tie is a tie in Pacific Blue and Middle East Marine. ... who says—"Fill 'em up, Mom—I'll fasten 'em down"

"WE'RE working together
as never before,
Directing our efforts toward
winning the war,
Preserving and canning things
out in the kitchen, Yes, Mother and I have been right in there pitchin'."

"BUT sometimes I pause when the work gets too taxing
And subtly suggest that,
'we both need relaxing.'
She'll say to me, sweetly:
'Of course we do, dear,
I'll get us a sandwich and Blue Ribbon Beer.'"

"AND so for the moment we gladly suspend,
Our efforts—and pour out
that full-flavor blend;
The beer they call Pabst—with
a taste matched by none,
The beer that is 33 brews
—all in one!"

Now more than ever

Friendly Campanishup

BY THE WAY, if you are not able to get Pabst Blue Ribbon every time you want it—here's the reason: More people than ever are asking for Pabst Blue Ribbon these days —and under wartime conditions, there just isn't enough to go around. We are making every effort to see that your dealer gets a regular supply. If he is out of Pabst Blue Ribbon today, we suggest you ask again tomorrow.
